

GETTING AROUND CALGARY

PUBLIC TRANSIT

Calgary Transit connects Calgary's communities through bus and C-Train (LRT) service. The C-Train (the 'C' stands for Calgary) has 45 stations and is the only emissions-free, wind-powered public transit operation in North America. The C-Train offers a fare-free downtown, where commuters may hop on and off the train along 7th Avenue. Connecting conference delegates to Calgary's destinations, the C-Train conveniently connects to Chinook Mall, Stephen Avenue Walk, the Southern Alberta Jubilee Auditorium, the Calgary TELUS Convention Centre and Stampede Park.

Fares: Adult fare $3.00

RENTAL CARS + CAR SHARING

Exploring Calgary by car is a convenient way to discover our communities, or take a quick trip to the Rocky Mountains. Calgary lies at the intersection of the Trans-Canada Highway and the QE2 Highway, an hour east of the Rockies. To navigate around the city, choose from the various rental car or car sharing companies that operate in Calgary.

Rent a vehicle and enjoy the freedom to explore Calgary and beyond. Tip: Rental agencies often offer excellent rates and unlimited kilometres on weekends. Calgary has two car sharing services within the city; car2go and Calgary CarShare.
